

Are you being threatened and forced to work against your will?

Case 5: Forced to work by threat

—A method of forcing a person to work at a low wage by taking advantage of the worker's mistake—

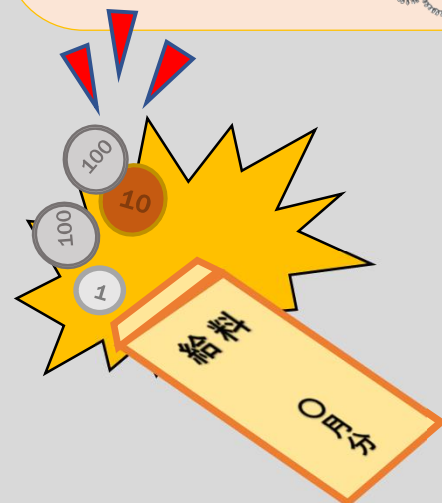

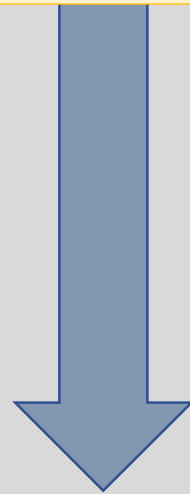

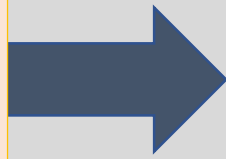

(1) You received an order from a customer

You received an order for delivery work from a customer. You finished the work as usual and thought that you would get paid. Then, you received a complaint from the customer.

(2) You were forced to apologize for your mistake

You were called by the customer who complained that the goods you had delivered were broken, and you were assaulted and forced to apologize. You could not resist because you thought that the customer was related to a bōryokudan (organized crime group). Then, you were ordered to work at the customer's restaurant.

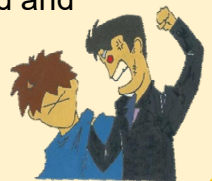

It is a vile crime that treats a person like a commodity!

(4) You continued to be forced to work due to being placed under control

You were mentally controlled and unable to resist due to threats and violence inflicted upon you on a daily basis, and as a result, you were forced to work almost for no pay for a long period of more than one year.

(3) You were forced to work by threat and violence

You were forced to work at the customer's restaurant against your will, and were threatened and assaulted every day by the customer who said, "Sales are poor," "I'll kill you."
